FALL RIVER CONSERVATION DISTRICT FABRIC LAYING AGREEMENT

It is mutually agreed that the following terms apply to Fall River County Conservation District's fabric laying.

The Fall River County Conservation District will provide fabric, fabric layer, crew of 2 people, and any other tools necessary to lay the fabric (knives, shovels, etc.)

The Producer will provide a tractor, driver and 1 person with shovel to follow fabric layer. (Optional if you plan on applying staples)

If the producer wants to apply staples, the District will provide them at cost and add them to the cost shared amount. The producer is responsible for applying them, or paying additional labor costs.

The district would like the site prepared properly before the fabric crew arrives. Knocking down the ridge (this is important) created by the tree planter and working the ground (if needed) to control any new weeds between tree planting and fabric installation.

The District should be contacted immediately if there are any problems with the fabric, this will be done prior to being certified, if you're on a cost share program. The producer is responsible for maintaining the fabric after the final certification and billing. The fabric should be checked after the strong winds and rains. And every year the tree holes should be checked and made wider as the trees grow larger.

The District requests that the producer is present during at least part of the fabric laying.

Prices are as follows; $50.00 equipment fee, fabric $.29 cents a foot, installation will be $.24 cents a foot. Plus tax if applies. A $1.00 / mile will be charged to the planting site from the tree shed. Prices subject to change according to price of fabric***
District requires 50% deposit on trees and fabric before February 1st, 2010

I have read the Fall River Conservation District policy and the above the agreement and agree to have the Fall River County Conservation District lay my fabric.
